To

James Wright Esqre

Superintendent

Central Jail

Bangalore

Sir,

I humbly and respectfully beg to submit the following facts for your kind consideration and for such orders as you may be pleased to pass thereon.

I was transferred in 1898 from the Government Press to that of the Central Jail as Manager of the latter press with a verbal promise by Mr Sparkes the then Superintendent of the Jails and

Grant

Government Press that my pay would be increased. Ever since my coming to the Jail Press, I have been discharging my duties to the entire satisfaction of my superior Officers, attending office both morning and after noon, which fact you are well aware of.

I beg also to submit that my duties are chiefly (1) to impart teaching to illiterate Convicts, (2) to supervise the plant and Machinery, and (3) Proof reading and examining without any assistance whatever, (4) Maintain discipline among Convicts working in the Press, and (5) Keeping from and to registers, and attending to other

clerical work such as correspondence &c

I perform the above duties without any help, as said above

In connection with my pay being increased, I requested the late Supt

Mr Syed Amir Hassan, to address the Inspector General of Prisons for my pay being increased. The Inspector

General of Prisons, in his Lr 149, dated 15th August 1899, copy enclosed ordered, that my case for increase of pay would be considered, when the Jail Press was revised.

I humbly beg to state, that the Press has been enlarged and Machines were introduced and different branches such as Composing & Binding Depts.

have been arranged, all over which I am required to exercise due supervision, and see that the work in each Department is done properly.
Mr Sparkes, the then Superintendent, addressed Government in 1897, suggesting the re-organization of the Jail Press, Considering the pressure of work. Copy of which I enclosed for Kind perusal.

Under the foregoing circumstances, you will Kindly recommend my hard and pitiable case, to the Inspector General of Prisons, for increase of pay in the preference to his Rs. quoted above, and for which act of Kindness I shall,
as in duty bound, ever pray.

I beg to remain

The General and Revenue Secy

Sir

(281) With reference to your letter Lr 1259/295 of 23d Instant stating that 2 of the old Machines may be sent to the Central Jail, I have the honor to inform you that this will increase the work there to a very large extent and that the present establishment consists now of a Manager on Rs 25 and a proof reader on Rs: 15/ both of whom are paid by the Jail out of the manufactures and have no connection with the Central Press

P.R. 1861

In fact the Central Job Press is worked as quite a separate establishment and has no Connection with the Central Press with the exception of procuring such work the latter chooses to give it, this under the present regime of one Superintendent works satisfactorily, as each of these departments able to help each other in many ways and whereby a good deal of money is saved to Government, but it should they be separated at any future time difficulties may arise as they have done in former years under the Job Press be left without work. I should therefore beg to propose that the Central Jail Press be worked on exactly the same as the Branch Press at Mysore and became part and parcel of the Central Press, that all paid employees of the Jail Press be paid by the Central Press and their names borne on the bar awards of the latter; also that all materials be supplied by the Central Press and that credit be given to the Jail for all work turned out. That the Superintendent of the Central Press have entire management and Control over the employees of the Jail Press as the scheme adopted in the penetentiary, Madras, and found to work very well

To carry this scheme out properly I would propose the following establishment. One foreman on Rs: 40/ an Assistant foreman on Rs: 25/ and a proof reader on Rs: 20- I do not consider their proposed establishment too large when compared with that of the Branch Press at Mysore which amounting to Rs: 129 per mensem and considering that the value of work turned out was Rs: 9.700- and that of the Jail Press Rs. 8.800 for the last year (97/98:) to present the Manager of

of the Jail Press has to do the whole of the clerical work of the Press including everything also any proof reading there may be and has also to teach the prisoners who Consequently do not receive much instruction and are only available for manual c?
labour such as printers, an Asst would be able to relieve the foreman of this and Consequently more and better work could be turned out by the Jail Press than a present which is very rough. Should Government approve of this scheme I would request you to K. by this post monthly expenditure of

of No 85/ on to the proposed budget submitted with my proposed revised scheme of the Central Press with my letter No 804 of 27-4-98 Instant.
